About Kedarkantha Trek

Kedarkantha Trek is one of India's most popular and beginner-friendly winter treks, located in the Garhwal Himalayas of Uttarakhand. It is especially famous for its snow-covered trails and a rewarding summit climb.

Starting from the beautiful village of Sankri, the trek passes through dense pine forests, snow meadows, frozen streams, and scenic clearings like Juda Ka Talab before reaching the Kedarkantha base camp.

The highlight of the trek is the Kedarkantha summit at 12,500 ft, which offers a breathtaking 360-degree panoramic view of Himalayan peaks such as Swargarohini, Bandarpoonch, Black Peak, and Ranglana.

Kedarkantha is ideal for first-time trekkers as well as experienced hikers looking for a classic winter Himalayan experience with moderate difficulty and well-defined trails.
